PAYMENT ACCOUNT FEATURES AND RISKS

What is a payment account?

A payment account is an account held in the name of a payment service user which is used for the execution of payment transactions.

To know more refer to the Bank of Italy Guides available both on the Revolut Website and the Bank of Italy Website

What is my Revolut Account?

Your account is a payment account that holds your e-money and is based on Terms and Conditions entered into for an indefinite period of time. It means that it is valid until you or we end it. Your payment account may hold e-money in different currencies at the same time. E-money is an electronic alternative to cash. If you or someone else gives us money, we'll issue an equivalent value of e-money in the currency you or the other person chooses. We'll store the e-money in your account and other people will accept it as payment. When you make payments to external accounts the e-money is redeemed at its nominal value.

Once you have e-money in your account you'll be able to use our services. For example, you can do the following:

- Send money to and receive money from other Revolut accounts and non-Revolut accounts;
- Change money from one currency to another (we call this a currency exchange);

- Make payments and withdraw cash using your Revolut Card;
- View information about and manage your account.

The main way we provide our services is through the Revolut mobile app. However, we provide our services in other ways too, like through web pages, other apps, APIs and other means. To know more refer to the Bank of Italy Guides available both on Revolut Website and the Bank of Italy Website

Which are the risks associated with my Revolut Account?

The payment account is a substantially safe product. The main risk is the counterparty risk, i.e. the eventuality that Revolut Payments UAB is unable to reimburse the customer, in whole or in part, the sums deposited.

We don't lend your money to others. When we become aware of a payment for your account, or you add money to it, we place the equivalent value of e-money in your account. We quickly either:

- place the money into our ring-fenced accounts that we hold with large global banks in the EEA (ring-fenced accounts are separate from our own money); or
- invest the payment in low-risk assets held in a separate account with financial institutions.

We call this safeguarding.

Safeguarding helps protect you if we were to become insolvent. In such a case an administrator will repay you from our ring-fenced accounts.

Unfortunately, the law doesn't allow us to pay you interest, and the money in your account isn't covered by any deposit insurance scheme.

Other potential risks which you should take into proper consideration:

- the unfavorable change in economic conditions where contractually required;
- the loss or theft of debit card, of identification data and keywords for accessing your Revolut payment account through the App, reduced to a minimum if you observe the common rules of prudence and attention;
- the non-execution or defective execution of the payment transaction (e.g. instant credit transfers) ascribed to an error of the client, of the Bank or other payment services providers involved in the operation;
- the suspension or interruption of the service for technical or force majeure reasons;
- malfunctioning of payment systems.
